

Think the Oswego county budget cuts won't affect you? Think again.

For little more than the deposit on two bottles a day, $13 million in federal money for services to veterans may be jeopardized, records important to the history of the county could be lost, highway programs delayed, recycling programs stopped, and you may not get the amount of gas you paid for from your local filling station.

Tough times call for shared sacrifice, yet Oswego County employees are being asked to pay for a deficit they didn't create, all for a tax savings of less than 12 cents a day for each household in the county.

You deserve better — call your county legislator and tell them to reinstate your county employees. It's your dime.
